SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The bill allows a consumer to place a "security freeze" on his or her credit report by making a request in writing by certified mail to a consumer credit reporting agency. The security freeze prohibits the consumer credit reporting agency from releasing the consumer's credit report or any information contained within the report without the authorized consent of the consumer.

The security freeze lasts until the consumer requests that it be removed or temporarily lifted. The bill does not prohibit a consumer credit reporting agency from informing a third party that a particular consumer credit report has been placed under a security freeze.

The bill prohibits a consumer credit reporting agency from charging a fee to a consumer wishing to place a security freeze on his or her credit report. The bill allows a consumer credit reporting agency to charge a fee, not to exceed $5, when a consumer elects to temporarily lift or remove a security freeze on his or her credit report.

The bill creates a new cause of action for any person who is aggrieved by a knowing or willful violation of the provisions of the bill for the recovery of actual and consequential damages, court costs, and attorney's fees.

The bill becomes effective on July 1, 2006.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. HOUSE PRINCIPLES ANALYSIS:

Safeguard Individual Liberty – The bill allows a consumer to protect his or her personal information by placing a security freeze on his or her credit report and to remove or temporarily lift the security freeze at his or her discretion.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Current Situation

Fraud Alert

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act¹ (FCRA) provides two different types of fraud alerts that consumers may use to protect themselves against identity theft. Fraud alerts are designed to protect a consumer's private credit information if he or she suspects someone is attempting to open credit accounts in the consumer's name. When a business sees the alert on a consumer's credit report, the business must verify the consumer's identity before issuing credit. As part of the verification process, the business may try to contact the consumer directly.

A one-call fraud alert allows a consumer, or an individual acting on behalf of a consumer, who asserts in good faith that the consumer has been or is about to become a victim of fraud or related crime, including identity theft, to request that a consumer reporting agency include a fraud alert on the file of that consumer and also provide that alert along with any credit score generated with that file for a period of 90 days unless the consumer requests that the alert be removed before the end of that time period. The consumer reporting agency must also refer the information regarding the fraud alert to each of the other consumer reporting agencies as described in current law.

An extended alert is provided for a consumer wishing to place an alert on his or her file for a period of up to seven years unless the consumer wishes to remove the alert before the end of that time period. During the first five years of an extended fraud alert, a consumer reporting agency must exclude the consumer from any list of consumers prepared by a consumer reporting agency and provided to any third party to offer credit or insurance to the consumer as part of a transaction not initiated by the consumer. A consumer may request that the exclusion be rescinded before the end of the five year time period. The consumer reporting agency must also refer the information regarding the extended fraud alert to each of the other consumer reporting agencies as described in current law.

The FCRA requires that in any case where a consumer reporting agency includes a fraud alert in the file of a consumer, the consumer credit reporting agency must disclose to the consumer that he or she may request two free copies of the file on the consumer during the 12 month period beginning on the date in which the fraud alert was included in the file.

Fraud alerts do not prevent a credit report from being issued.

Blocking Information Resulting from Identity Theft

The FCRA provides that a consumer credit reporting agency must block the reporting of any information in the file of a consumer that the consumer identifies as information that resulted from an alleged identity theft, no later than 4 business days after the receipt by such agency of: appropriate proof of the identity of the consumer; a copy of an identity theft report; the identification of such information by the consumer; and a statement by the consumer that the information is not related to any transaction by the consumer.

A consumer credit reporting agency is to promptly notify the furnisher of any information that has been identified as information resulting from an alleged identity theft that the information may be the result of identity theft; that an identity theft report has been filed; that a block has been requested; and the effective dates of the block.

A consumer credit reporting agency may decline to block or rescind any block if the consumer credit reporting agency reasonably determines that: the information was blocked in error; a block was requested by the consumer on the basis of material misrepresentation of fact by the consumer relevant to the request to block; or the consumer obtained possession of goods, services, or money as a result of the blocked transaction or transactions.

Federal Legislation

There are two bills currently filed in the United States Senate and three bills filed in the House of Representatives relating to the protection of consumer information.

S. 737- The bill amends the FCRA as it relates to consumer reporting agencies furnishing consumer information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation under specific circumstances.

Latest Major Action: 4/6/2005 Referred to Senate Committee on the Judiciary.

S. 1461- The bill provides a consumer with the ability to place a security freeze on his or her private information file if the request is made by certified mail, by telephone by providing certain sensitive personal information, or through a secure electronic mail connection if such a connection is made available by the consumer reporting agency.

The bill requires a consumer reporting agency to place the requested freeze no later than 2 business days after receiving the written or telephone request from the consumer and within 24 hours after receiving an electronic mail request. The bill requires the consumer reporting agency to send a written confirmation to the consumer within 2 business days of placing the requested freeze and to provide the consumer a unique personal identification number or password to be used by the consumer to authorize access to the private information file or to remove the freeze from the file.

The bill prohibits a consumer credit reporting agency from charging a fee for placing, temporarily lifting, or removing a security freeze from a consumer's credit report. The bill prohibits a consumer credit reporting agency from charging a fee to replace or reissue the identification number and password the first time the information is provided to the consumer and allows for a fee to be charged, of not more than $5, for a second or subsequent replacement of such information.

Latest Major Action: 7/21/2005 Referred to Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

H.R. 1745- The bill provides for protection of a consumer's Social Security account number to prevent fraudulent misuse and to otherwise enhance protection against identity theft.

Latest Major Action: 5/19/2005 Referred to House Subcommittee on Financial Institutions and Consumer Credit.

H.R. 2715- Similar to H.R. 737, the bill amends the FCRA as it relates to consumer reporting agencies furnishing consumer information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation under specific circumstances.

Latest Major Action: 7/29/2005 Referred to House Subcommittee on Financial Institutions and Consumer Credit.

H.R. 3140- The bill amends the FCRA to expand the protections for sensitive personal information in Federal law to cover the information collection and sharing practices of unregulated information brokers, to enhance information security requirements for consumer reporting agencies and information brokers, and to require consumer reporting agencies, financial institutions, and other entities to notify consumers of data security breaches involving sensitive consumer information.

Latest Major Action: 6/30/2005 Referred to House Committee on Financial Services.

States Offering a Security Freeze

Currently, California, Texas, Louisiana, Vermont, Washington, Nevada, Connecticut, Illinois, Maine, and Colorado offer consumers the right to freeze their credit reports. Texas, Vermont, Washington, and Illinois only offer the option to those consumers affected by identity theft. Florida does not provide for any freeze or block on consumer credit information.

This bill is drawn from language contained in California's and New Jersey's legislation.

Proposed Changes

The bill allows a consumer to place a "security freeze" on his or her credit report by making a request in writing by certified mail to a consumer credit reporting agency. The security freeze prohibits the consumer credit reporting agency from releasing the consumer's credit report or any information contained within the report without the authorized consent of the consumer. The security freeze lasts until the consumer requests that it be removed. The bill does not prohibit a consumer credit reporting agency from informing a third party that a particular consumer credit report has been placed under a security freeze.

The bill requires a consumer credit reporting agency to place a security freeze on a consumer's credit report no later than five business days after receiving the written request and requires the consumer credit reporting agency to send a written confirmation of the security freeze to the consumer within five business days of instituting the security freeze. A consumer credit reporting agency must remove the security freeze within three days of notification from the consumer. The bill requires the consumer credit reporting agency to provide the consumer with a personal identification number or password to be used by the consumer in the case where a consumer may wish to provide for the limited release of his or her credit report for a designated period of time during the security freeze.

If the consumer wishes to allow his or her credit report to be accessed for a designated period of time while a security freeze is in effect; he or she must contact the consumer credit reporting agency, request that the freeze be temporarily lifted, and provide: proper identification as determined by the consumer credit reporting agency; the personal identification number or password previously provided to the consumer by the consumer credit reporting agency; and the proper information regarding the specified period of time for which the report shall be made temporarily available.

The bill requires a consumer credit reporting agency to lift the security freeze within three days of receiving a request from a consumer to temporarily lift the security freeze and allows a consumer credit reporting agency to use telephonic communication or any form of secure electronic media to receive and process a request from a consumer to temporarily lift a freeze on a credit report. The bill provides that consumer credit reporting agencies should have a goal of processing such requests within 15 minutes after receiving the request.

The bill allows a third party requesting access to a consumer credit report to treat the application as incomplete if the consumer has not authorized a temporary lifting of the security freeze for the period of time in which the request is made.

Exemptions

The bill provides the following exemptions for use of a credit report by certain entities regardless of a security freeze being placed on a consumer's credit report:

- Any person to whom the consumer owes a financial obligation under certain circumstances;
- A subsidiary, affiliate, agent, assignee of a person to whom access has been granted for purposes of facilitating the extension of credit or other permissible use;
- Any state agency acting within its lawful investigative or regulatory authority;
- A state or local law enforcement agency acting to investigate a crime or conducting a criminal background check;
- Any person administering a credit file monitoring subscription service to which the consumer has subscribed;
- Any person for the purpose of providing a consumer with a copy of the consumer's credit report upon the consumer's request;
- Pursuant to a court order lawfully entered; or
- The use of credit information for the purposes of prescreening as provided for by the FCRA.

In addition, check services companies and demand deposit account information services companies are not required to place a freeze on a consumer's credit report. Resellers of consumer credit information are also exempt, however they must honor a security freeze placed on a consumer credit report.

Fees

The bill allows a consumer credit reporting agency to charge a fee, not to exceed $5, when a consumer elects to temporarily lift or remove a security freeze on his or her credit report. The bill disallows a consumer credit reporting agency to charge a fee to a consumer wishing to place a security freeze on his or her credit report. A consumer may be charged a fee, not to exceed $5, if the consumer forgets or misplaces the identification number or password provided by the consumer credit reporting agency and the agency must reissue the information to the consumer.

Consumer Information

The bill does not allow a consumer credit reporting agency to change a consumer's official information in a credit report when a security freeze is in effect without sending a written confirmation of the change to the consumer within 30 days of making the change. "Official information" includes the consumer's name, address, date of birth, and social security number. In the case of an address change, the bill requires the written confirmation to be sent to the new address and the former address of the consumer.

The bill provides that a written confirmation is not required for technical modifications to a consumer's official information including name and street abbreviations, complete spellings, or transposition of numbers or letters.

Cause of Action

The bill creates a new cause of action for any person who is aggrieved by a knowing or willful violation of the provisions of the bill for the recovery of actual and consequential damages, court costs, and attorney's fees.

Disclosure

The bill requires a consumer credit reporting agency to include a written summary of all rights under the bill to a consumer when sending the consumer a written disclosure. The bill details the information that must be included in the written summary of consumer rights, including the right to civil action. Consumer credit reporting agencies which maintain consumer credit reports on a nationwide basis must provide a toll free telephone number for the consumer to use if he or she wishes to communicate with the consumer credit reporting agency.

For purposes of this section, "consumer credit report security freeze" or "security freeze" means a notice placed in a consumer's credit report that prohibits a consumer credit reporting agency from releasing the consumer's credit report or any information contained within the credit report to a third party without the express authorization of the consumer. This section does not prevent a consumer credit reporting agency from advising a third party that a security freeze is in effect with respect to the consumer's credit report.

If a consumer credit reporting agency intends to remove a security freeze on a consumer's credit report pursuant to this paragraph, the consumer credit reporting agency shall notify the consumer in writing prior to removing the security freeze.

banks or other financial institutions for use only in reviewing a consumer request for a demand deposit account at the inquiring bank or financial institution, as defined in s. 655.005(1)(g) or

(c) A consumer credit reporting agency that acts only as a reseller of credit information by assembling and merging information contained in the database of another consumer credit reporting agency or multiple consumer credit reporting agencies and does not maintain a permanent database of credit information from which new consumer credit reports are produced. However, a consumer credit reporting agency shall honor any security freeze placed on a consumer credit report by another consumer credit reporting agency.

(15) In addition to any other penalties or remedies provided under law, a person who is aggrieved by a knowing or willful violation of the provisions of this section may bring a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction against any 218 this section is sufficient if it is in substantially the 219 following form:

220
221 You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your 222 credit report, which will prohibit a consumer credit reporting
223 agency from releasing any information in your credit report 224 without your express authorization. A security freeze must be 225 requested in writing by certified mail to a consumer credit 226 reporting agency. The security freeze is designed to prevent 227 credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name 228 without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a 229 security freeze to control access to the personal and financial 230 information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or 231 prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or 232 application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, 233 insurance, government services or payments, rental housing,
234 employment, investment, license, cellular phone, utilities,
235 digital signature, Internet credit card transaction, or other 236 services, including an extension of credit at point of sale.
237 When you place a security freeze on your credit report, you will 238 be provided a personal identification number or password to use 239 if you choose to remove the freeze on your credit report or 240 authorize the release of your credit report for a designated 241 period of time after the security freeze is in place. To provide 242 that authorization, you must contact the consumer credit 243 reporting agency and provide all of the following:

- 244 (1) The personal identification number or password.
245 (2) Proper identification to verify your identity.

HB 37

2006
CS

(3) Information specifying the period of time for which the report shall be made available.

A consumer credit reporting agency must authorize the release of your credit report no later than 3 business days after receiving the above information.

A security freeze does not apply to a person or entity, or its affiliates, or collection agencies acting on behalf of the person or entity, with which you have an existing account, that requests information in your credit report for the purposes of reviewing or collecting the account. Reviewing the account includes activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements.

You have the right to bring a civil action against anyone, including a consumer credit reporting agency, who fails to comply with the provisions of s. 501.005, Florida Statutes, which governs the placing of a consumer credit report security freeze on your consumer credit report. This includes the right to bring a civil action against any person for recovery of your actual and consequential damages, court costs, and attorney's fees caused by a knowing or willful violation of the law.

Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 2006.

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The bill amends the "Intrastate Moving Law" to change the title to "Household Moving Services" and also to expand and clarify certain definitions. Definitions for the terms "household move", "moving broker", and "moving container" are added. The bill requires moving brokers to register with the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (department) and post specific financial security. Additionally, the legislation requires movers' vehicle display signage to have a minimum letter height of 1.5 inches, clarifies additional insurance valuation coverage requirements and provides that the department may suspend registration and seek civil penalties for failure to carry valid liability insurance. The bill also clarifies the requirements for limitation of liability disclosure to the consumer and provides that a county or municipality may not issue an occupational license unless the mover or broker has a current registration with the department.

HB 167 does not appear to require state or local governments to spend funds.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2006.

Safeguard individual liberty and promote personal responsibility – The bill states that a mover's failure to maintain the required liability insurance coverage "constitutes an immediate threat to the public health, safety, and welfare."¹

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Present situation: The 2002 Legislature enacted laws regulating the intrastate moving industry in Florida. Any mover wishing to do business in the state must register annually with the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (department). To obtain a registration certificate, the mover must file an application, pay a registration fee in the amount of $300, and meet statutory qualifications.

The law requires a mover to maintain cargo liability insurance coverage in the amount of $10,000 per shipment and limits the mover's liability to not less than 60 cents per pound of cargo. Minimum limits of motor vehicle coverage are also specified in the amounts of $50,000, $100,000, and $300,000 per occurrence.

Proposed changes: The bill amends Chapter 507, Florida Statutes, the intrastate moving law, to:

- Change the title of the chapter from "Intrastate Moving Law" to "Household Moving Services".
- Expand and clarify certain existing definitions and to add definitions for the terms "household move", "moving broker", and "moving container".
- Require moving brokers to register with the department and post specific financial security. A mover that operates two or fewer vehicles may post a performance bond or certificate of deposit in the amount of $25,000 in lieu of the cargo legal liability coverage.²
- Require movers' vehicle display signage to have a minimum letter height of 1.5 inches.
- Clarify additional insurance valuation coverage requirements for coverage of a consumer's goods.
- Provide that the department may suspend registration and seek civil penalties for failure to carry valid liability insurance.
- Clarify the requirements for limitation of liability disclosure to the consumer.
- Exempt from the hearing requirements of chapter 120, Florida Statutes, proceedings conducted by the department against a mover that fails to maintain the required insurance coverage.³
- Provide that a county or municipality may not issue an occupational license unless the mover or broker has a current registration with the department.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

Indeterminate. See fiscal comments below.

2. Expenditures:

The bill appears to have no impact on state government revenues.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

The bill appears to have no impact on local government revenues.

2. Expenditures:

The bill appears to have no impact on local government expenditures.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

This bill requires moving brokers to annually register with the department, submit a form of security deposit in the amount of $25,000, and pay a $300 registration fee. The bill also requires movers to include signage at least 1.5 inches in height on their moving vehicles. In addition, the bill allows movers with less than 3 trucks to submit security to the department in the amount of $25,000, in lieu of the required liability insurance coverage.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

Movers are currently required to pay an annual $300 registration fee to the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and this bill extends this requirement to moving brokers as well. Some recurring revenue may accrue to the General Inspection Trust Fund housed within the department from the annual registration fee that would be collected from moving brokers. This amount is indeterminate as there are no statistics available on the number of moving brokers in Florida.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

The bill does not require counties or municipalities to take an action requiring the expenditure of funds, does not reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate, and does not reduce the percentage of state tax shared with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:

None

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

The bill contains no grant of rule-making authority.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS: None

(Substantial rewording of section. See

s. 507.04, F.S., for present text.)

507.04 Required insurance coverages; liability limitations; valuation coverage.--

(1) LIABILITY INSURANCE.--

(a)1. Except as provided in paragraph (b), each mover operating in this state must maintain current and valid liability insurance coverage of at least $10,000 per shipment for the loss or damage of household goods resulting from the negligence of the mover or its employees or agents.

2. The mover must provide the department with evidence of liability insurance coverage before the mover is registered with the department under s. 507.03. All insurance coverage maintained by a mover must remain in effect throughout the mover's registration period. A mover's failure to maintain insurance coverage in accordance with this paragraph constitutes an immediate threat to the public health, safety, and welfare.
If a mover fails to maintain insurance coverage, the department may immediately suspend the mover's registration or eligibility for registration and the mover must immediately cease operating as a mover in this state. In addition, and notwithstanding the availability of any administrative relief pursuant to chapter 120, the department may seek from the appropriate circuit court an immediate injunction prohibiting the mover from operating in this state until the mover complies with this paragraph, a civil penalty not to exceed $5,000, and court costs.

(b) A mover that operates two or fewer vehicles, in lieu of maintaining the liability insurance coverage required under 308 paragraph (a), may, and each moving broker must, maintain one of 309 the following alternative coverages:

310 1. A performance bond in the amount of $25,000, for which 311 the surety of the bond must be a surety company authorized to 312 conduct business in this state; or

313 2. A certificate of deposit in a Florida banking 314 institution in the amount of $25,000.

315
316 The original bond or certificate of deposit must be filed with 317 the department and must designate the department as the sole 318 beneficiary. The department must use the bond or certificate of 319 deposit exclusively for the payment of claims to consumers who 320 are injured by the fraud, misrepresentation, breach of contract, 321 misfeasance, malfeasance, or financial failure of the mover or 322 moving broker or by a violation of this chapter by the mover or 323 broker. Liability for these injuries may be determined in an 324 administrative proceeding of the department or through a civil 325 action in a court of competent jurisdiction. However, claims 326 against the bond or certificate of deposit must only be paid, in 327 amounts not to exceed the determined liability for these 328 injuries, by order of the department in an administrative 329 proceeding. The bond or certificate of deposit is subject to 330 successive claims, but the aggregate amount of these claims may 331 not exceed the amount of the bond or certificate of deposit.

332 (2) MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE.--Each mover operating in this 333 state must maintain current and valid motor vehicle insurance
334 coverage, including combined bodily injury and property damage 335 liability coverage in the following minimum amounts:

HB 167

(a) Fifty thousand dollars per occurrence for a commercial motor vehicle with a gross weight of less than 35,000 pounds.

(b) One hundred thousand dollars per occurrence for a commercial motor vehicle with a gross weight of 35,000 pounds or more, but less than 44,000 pounds.

(c) Three hundred thousand dollars per occurrence for a commercial motor vehicle with a gross weight of 44,000 pounds or more.

(3) INSURANCE COVERAGES.--The insurance coverages required under paragraph (1)(a) and subsection (2) must be issued by an insurance company or carrier licensed to transact business in this state under the Florida Insurance Code as designated in s. 624.01. The department shall require a mover to present a certificate of insurance of the required coverages before issuance or renewal of a registration certificate under s. 507.03. The department shall be named as a certificateholder in the certificate and must be notified at least 30 days before any changes in insurance coverage.

(4) LIABILITY LIMITATIONS; VALUATION RATES.--A mover may not limit its liability for the loss or damage of household goods to a valuation rate that is less than 60 cents per pound per article. A provision of a contract for moving services is void if the provision limits a mover's liability to a valuation rate that is less than the minimum rate under this subsection. If a mover limits its liability for a shipper's goods, the mover must disclose the limitation, including the valuation rate, to the shipper in writing at the time that the estimate and contract for services are executed and before any moving or accessorial services are provided. The disclosure must also inform the shipper of the opportunity to purchase valuation coverage if the mover offers that coverage under subsection (5).

(5) VALUATION COVERAGE.--A mover may offer valuation coverage to compensate a shipper for the loss or damage of the shipper's household goods that are lost or damaged during a household move. If a mover offers valuation coverage, the coverage must indemnify the shipper for at least the minimum valuation rate required under subsection (4). The mover must disclose the terms of the coverage to the shipper in writing at the time that the estimate and contract for services are executed and before any moving or accessorial services are provided. The disclosure must inform the shipper of the cost of the valuation coverage, the valuation rate of the coverage, and the opportunity to reject the coverage. If valuation coverage compensates a shipper for at least the minimum valuation rate required under subsection (4), the coverage satisfies the mover's liability for the minimum valuation rate.

Section 6. Section 507.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

507.05 Estimates and contracts for service.--~~Before~~ ~~Prior~~ to providing any moving or accessorial services, a contract and estimate must be provided to a prospective shipper in writing, must be signed and dated by the shipper and the mover, and must include:

(1) The name, telephone number, and physical address where the mover's employees are available during normal business hours.

HB 167

2006

(2) The date the contract or estimate is prepared and any proposed date of the move.

(3) The name and address of the shipper, the addresses where the articles ~~items~~ are to be picked up and delivered, and a telephone number where the shipper may be reached.

(4) The name, telephone number, and physical address of any location where the goods will be held pending further transportation, including situations where the mover retains possession of goods pending resolution of a fee dispute with the shipper.

(5) An itemized breakdown and description and total of all costs and services for loading, transportation or shipment, unloading, and accessorial services to be provided during a household move or storage of household goods.

(6) Acceptable forms of payment. A mover shall accept a minimum of two of the three following forms of payment:

(a) Cash, cashier's check, money order, or traveler's check;

(b) Valid personal check, showing upon its face the name and address of the shipper or authorized representative; or

(c) Valid credit card, which shall include, but not be limited to, Visa or MasterCard.

A mover must ~~shall~~ clearly and conspicuously disclose to the shipper in the estimate and contract for services the forms of payments the mover will accept, including the forms of payment ~~from those categories~~ described in paragraphs (a)-(c).

HB 167

Section 7. Section 507.06, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

507.06 Delivery and storage of household goods.--

(1) A mover must relinquish household goods to a shipper and must place the goods inside a shipper's dwelling or, if directed by the shipper, inside a storehouse or warehouse that is owned or rented by the shipper or the shipper's agent, unless the shipper has not tendered payment in the amount specified in a written contract or estimate signed and dated by the shipper. A mover may not refuse to relinquish prescription medicines and goods for use by children, including children's furniture, clothing, or toys, under any circumstances.

(2) A mover may not refuse to relinquish household goods to a shipper or fail to place the goods inside a shipper's dwelling or, if directed by the shipper, inside a storehouse or warehouse that is owned or rented by the shipper or the shipper's agent, based on the mover's refusal to accept an acceptable form of payment.
